In their Own Words:

Five Reasons to apply to the IdRaHaJe Christian Camping Internship!

1 You'll learn to be a leader from the leaders around you.

The world needs leaders. At IdRaHaJe, you can become one. "One of the first things you pick up here is, 'Those who do, learn,' and that statement is especially true when it comes to leadership. The leaders around me have taught me so much about how to lead by putting me in places where that's the role I filled, even if that leadership looked like supporting others in their projects and making sure the team was doing well."

2 You'll learn the role of the outdoors in Christian ministry.

If you sense a call to Christian recreational ministry, education, or a related field and see the outdoors as a component of your future work, IdRaHaJe is just the place for you to "grow before you go." "While working at camp, I have been provided with a variety of opportunities that have sparked an interest for my future. I've been able to explore fields such as outdoor education, full-time ministry, adventure programming, and more."

3 You'll find a true Christian community.

At IdRaHaJe, we live, work, and pray — together. "Community is a huge part of Christ's message, but it can be so difficult to foster a healthy, Christ-centered community at work. The internship models the importance of that and ways to encourage it with expectant, daily prayer and weekly bible studies built into the schedule."

4 You don't have to put your education on hold.

"Being able to finish my college education was one of the deciding factors for me in committing to the internship. I was able to finish my last credit through the internship which fulfilled my degree requirements."

5 It's financially feasible.

This is a paid internship. Housing, utilities, and laundry facilities are all provided. During Mountain Lab School and summer, meals are provided, too. God meets our interns' needs every day. "The question I got the most often when preparing for the internship was, 'How will you pay for living expenses?' My answer was always that God would provide for what I needed, and that I was provided with plenty of the biggest expenses already, like food and housing. God provides the perfect circumstances when he wants you somewhere. All you have to do is show up."
