

Day-Long Adventure Packages

Peak Climb: This activity includes a guided hike up either Mt. Bierstadt or Square Top Mountain – two of Colorado’s popular peaks. From the parking lot, it is a 3-mile hike to the peak with an elevation gain of roughly 2400 feet. We will be starting early (arrive at IdRaHaJe by 6 AM) because of afternoon thunderstorms, the trail becoming very busy during the day, and wanting to make sure we allow time to summit before noon. If we are not able to summit by noon, we will turn around because of the risk of being caught in a storm above tree line.

If you have not had the experience of hiking a fourteener, it is important to understand the impact altitude can have on your body. Altitude affects everyone differently and decisions will be made by our trained guides if the group needs to turn around at any point. To help combat altitude sickness it is important to make sure you are properly hydrated. This means drinking 2-3 liters of water during the few days before if possible. You will be emailed a packing list that provides the recommended and encouraged gear to wear/bring. Like most outdoor activities weather may impact the activities we are able to do. This package requires at least one (1) supervisory adult to participate with minors.
